Fathers Day Card

"The bar for paternal affection has been set... somewhere below feline adoration. This card hilariously captures the internal turmoil of a pet who has just been informed of their demotion in the family's love hierarchy. The sheer outrage radiating from this fluffy ginger beast, complete with a well-placed 'WTF!!!' thought bubble, speaks volumes. It's the perfect card for the dad who understands that sometimes, love means acknowledging the cat might be a close second... maybe."

"For the dad who appreciates a more... deliberate expression of affection, this card delivers. Two adorable sloths, locked in a languid embrace and radiating gentle adoration, perfectly embody the art of taking one's sweet time with declarations of love. The 'sloooooo very much!' caption adds a touch of charmingly unhurried sincerity. This is the ideal card for the dad who enjoys a relaxed pace of life and understands that good things (like heartfelt sentiments) are worth waiting for... eventually."
